Backed up by Representatives from districts outwardly hostile to wartime prohibition, the minority will attempt a flying wedge flat in hope of so amending the war-time enforcement bill as to permit the manufacture and sale of 2½ per cent beer.

While the prohibition leaders claim to have sufficient votes to put the bill through without substantial change they conferred informally tonight to decide upon a plan of action, believing that there was he indication that the President, before July 1, would issue a proclamation declaring demobilization and war-time prohibition ended.

There was wide difference of otherwords after the bill sight might begin. After the bill sight might begin. After the bill way, but strong objection developed. Refusal of the House majority leaders to give the bill a special rule for immediate consideration was due, they explained, to failure of the committee to send in a war-time prohibition enforcement bill by itself. Had this been done, they said, it could have been passed in a day.

It is not at all unlikely that an effort will be made to sengrate bodily It is not at all unlikely that an effort will be made to separate bodily the war-time and constitutional measures described by some members as "the Siamese twins" of prohibition legislation, and endeavor to pass the former measure, for which there is pressing demand, and let the other wait. Even as the joint measure stands it contains one part or title which would take effect after its approval, and two that would not become effective until January 16, 1920. There will be ample time for members to outline their plan of attack and defense, for the House plans to adjourn early next week after disposing of the last of the supply bills early next week, until July 7.

Will Send in Report Today.

Chairman Volstead will send his report on the enforcement bill to the House tomorrow, but the minority report may not get in quite so early. The latter will be signed by Representatives Gard, Igoe, of Missouri, and Steele, of Pennsylvania, all Democrats: Dyer, Republican, of Missouri, and possibly others. While voting with the majority Mr. Gard announced that he would prepare a minority report, attacking principally the provision that a citizen shall not "possess" liquor and other features.

"The question of whether the President would have the power to repeal war-time prohibition by declaring demobilization complete was discussed in the House today by Representative Hoch, Republican, of Kansas.

"There seems to be a general belief," Mr. Hoch, said, "that the President not only has power to repeal the act, but intends to do so. The liquor interests in many sections of the country are openly defying the law, and are taking out licenses for the next fiscal year, and newspapers are devoting much space to the publication of stories forecasting a repeal Will Send in Report Today.

"Neither has he the legal right to repeal the act. That cannot be done until demobilization is terminated, and certainly he cannot state in good faith that demobilization is complete when hundreds of thousands of soldiers are still in the service."

Representative Barkley, Democrat, of Kentucky, interrupted to remark that there was no foundation whatsoever for stories 'which said the President would repeal the act.

"They are simply rumors," he added, "I will venture to say that not a single person in the country knows what the President's intention in the matter is."

Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, the Democratic leader, asserted on behalf of the league advocates that the Republicans will be unable to accomplish anything, and that the Democrats will not consent to any amendment of the covenant. He said:

"The Republicans are hopelessly divided. They will go all up and down the fence trying to pull off the pickets, but will be unable to remove one of them. They never can obtain a majority for the Knox resolution, the Fali resolution, the Sherman resolution or any of the reservations suggested by Mr. Root. These will be voted down by the Democrats with the assistance of Republicans; there will be more than two Republicans who will aid us in accomplishing this result.

"When all efforts in the direction of amendment or reservation have failed, the treaty will be ratified by a substantial majority. In my opinion, not more than fifteen Republicans and but one Democrat will vote against ratification."

President Holds Final Conference With Writers

AT 3 O'CLOCK TODAY

PARIS, June 27.—President Wilson this afternoon held his final conference with American correspondents here. He declared he expected the signing ceremony to be completed in time for him to leave Paris tomorrow night and sail from Breat for American Sunday.

In quarters close to the President it was stated tonight that should the Senate adopt the treaty plus reservations, the pact will be invalid pending diplomatic negotiations covering all nations that are parties to it, and that, therefore, a state of war would continue as far as the United States is concerned until the reservations had been fully negotiated.

The Fall resolution, it was added, in no way meets this situation.

(The Fall resolution provides for a declaration by the Senate that the war with Germany is officially ended.)

EX-CROWN PRINCE BACK ON HIS EXILE ISLAND: AWAY TWELVE HOURS

Council of Four Prepares Note to Be Sent to Dutch Government.

LONDON, June 27.—Ex-Crown Prince Frederick William is back on his exile island, Wieringen.

Today's official communique from The Hague reporting the ex-Crown Prince at Wieringen does not, however, cover the question as to where he was for about twelve hours yesterday, and his absence during that period seems confirmed.

Meanwhile the "big four" at Paris are reported to be preparing a note to the Dutch government explaining the latter's serious responsibility as a host to the two much-wanted Hohenzollerns, especially since Holland's attitude, as expressed in last night's statement by the Dutch minister here, appears to be that the Dutch government is not in a position to curb the movements of the ex-Kaiser and his son.

Satisfied With Progress.

The President goes back to the United States more than satisfied, his friends say with the net results of the conference, and all things considered, it is his opinion that the conference has been a wonderful success. While it is regarded as a disadvantageous peace for Germany, yet against this it is held that Germany committed a great wrong and quite naturally and inevitably must make just reparation for that wrong.

But outside of German results, the conference is viewed in presidential quarters as liberating peoples who never before had a chance of liberty, such as Poland, Jugo-Slavia and Czecho-Slovakia. Also the conference is credited with banding together the people of the world to make the peace regime enduring. Other large results, it was pointed out, are the giving of a charter to labor, removing restrictions on international intercourse and many other international results which can be summed up as "a colossal business, such as the world never dreamed of before."

BERLIN, June 27.—Gustav Noske,
Minister of National Defense, looms tonight as Germany's "strong man," facting the internal crisis which is growing worse hourly at an nisaming rate.
In a public statement late today he announced to the nation he was well aware of the various plots for a political uprising, but that he was ready to meet it as he met the Spartacan outbreaks, with "an iron hand." If necessary, he will place the whole of Germany under martial law, Noske declared.
The general strike agitation continues throughout Germany.
The whole of Silesia already is tied up by strikes.
The rank and file of the majority Socialist party is showing strong signs of going over to the side of the Radiicals.
General von Hoffman and Von Buelow, prominent in the nationalist agitation against Poland, have been dismissed by Noske, but both are refusing to give up their posts and are talking of armed defiance.
Feeling runs high throughout the eastern part of Germany affected by the treaty. Hoffman has openly announced that he will not yield a foot of German soil to the Poles.
